Agape Leadership – Robert L. Peterson & Alexander Strauch

QUOTES

"When we would consider the love of God in Christ, we are as one approaching the ocean: he casts a glance on the surface, but the depths he cannot sound."

"The great cause of neglecting the Scriptures is not want of time, but want of heart, some idol taking the place of Christ."

"It is a thriving soul that finds the Book of God growing more and more precious."

"My business is to love others, not to seek that others shall love me."

"It is better to lose your purse than your temper."

"There is more glory brought to God by a man ruling his family according to Christ, than even by a just potentate ruling a kingdom."

My guess is that few people in our church body have ever heard of R. C. Chapman (1803-1902). This is not surprising since Chapman himself would have wanted it this way. Nevertheless, Chapman was a godly man and all of us would greatly benefit from knowing a little bit about his life.

Many of his friends were well-known stalwarts of the Christian faith – Charles Spurgeon, George Mueller, and Hudson Taylor, to name a few. Chapman was a faithful preacher and pastor who never married, but chose to live amongst the poor in England and committed his life to quietly shepherding God's flock. He was known for his preeminent godliness, Christ-like humility, sincere charity, and infectious joy. He was an exemplary model of the practice that we call at Grace Bible Church 'heart shepherding.'

In this little, 80-page book, you will learn about a man who was said to practice what other preachers preached. The testimony of this saint who is now asleep in the Lord will encourage, challenge, and instruct all who read Agape Leadership. Lessons to be learned from this brief overview of his life include practicing the spiritual disciplines, humility, unity amongst believers, evangelism, hospitality, loving others, and prayer. The quotes below provide a glimpse into the godliness of R. C. Chapman's life and are sure to bring the BUILD and Wellspring disciplines to mind.
