

'Seeing and savoring Jesus Christ is the most important seeing and savoring you will ever do. Eternity hangs on it. . . One kind is seeing with physical eyes, and the other is with spiritual eyes. When we see with our spiritual eyes, we see the truth and beauty and value of Jesus Christ for what they really are. Thus a blind person today may see Christ more clearly than many who have eyes. . . Savoring Jesus Christ is the response to this. . . kind of seeing. When you see something as true and beautiful and valuable, you savor it. That is, you treasure it. You cherish and admire and prize it. Spiritual seeing and spiritual savoring are so closely connected that it would be fair to say: If you don't savor Christ, you haven't seen Christ for who he is. If you don't prize him above all things, you haven't apprehended his true worth. . . May God give you eyes to see and hearts to savor.' Seeing and Savoring Jesus Christ, John Piper, 9-11
