

"Your theology will not always move you in the direction of obedience because your use of theology is governed by the condition of your heart." Paul Tripp