D1: My heart... His Word (Psalm 119).

- Read Psalm 119:49-56.
- Make a list of the synonyms for God's Word in 119:49-56. Is there a verse in this section that does NOT mention God's word?
- What do 119:49, 52 and 55 have in common? How are they similar? How is 119:49 different than 119:52 and 55?
- Does the Psalmist give any evidence of how he feels or thinks in a world that is hostile to him and God's word? Be specific.
- In Christ how should we think similarly to the Psalmist about our enemies? How should we think differently about enemies? Can you think of any NT examples for each?
- Locate all the "I" statements (for example, "I do not turn aside from Your law," 119:51). Write a prayer to God praising Him for the "I" statements you've been able to say, and asking Him for help to be able to say the "I" statements you haven't been able to say of late.

*“Older women likewise are to be reverent in their behavior,
not malicious gossips nor enslaved to much wine,
teaching what is good,*

*so that they may encourage the young women to love their husbands, to love their children,
to be sensible, pure,
workers at home, kind,
being subject to their own husbands,*

so that the word of God will not be dishonored.”
Titus 2:3-5

“The world judges the gospel, which is the heart of the word of God, by the character of the people who believe and claim to be transformed by it.”
MacArthur, 87

Questions from Titus 2:3-5. (Pick 7 to answer for 1/26/13. Be prepared to share why you picked the questions you did.)

Q1: How aware have you been of what Titus 2:3-5 says and what it means for the women around you in the church (whether you are married or not)?

Q2: If you are single but hope to be married someday, how aware have you been of Titus 2:3-5 as you prayerfully consider marriage? Why is your current awareness been where it is? Is there anything to change? What will that change practically look like?

Q3: If you are married and/or have daughters: How aware do you think the women in your home are aware of what Titus 2:3-5 says and means for them? Why is their awareness where it is currently? What is your role in their current awareness of Titus 2:3-5?

Q4: Do you long for your wife to be such a woman? Are you looking for a wife who is interested in living a life that looks different than the way most women live?

Q5: Are you concerned to direct your wife in this direction? Ask your wife if she thinks you are concerned for her holiness of life. What kinds of things might you need to do to help your wife grow more intentionally into an “older woman who is reverent in behavior?”

Q6: Are you the kind of man that is concerned that slander or gossip not find a lodging place in the woman you would date, or your wife? Do you long for your wife to be in control of her words? Do you know the effects of her emails, Facebook postings, phone calls on others? Are you looking for a woman who is far from the charge of being a malicious gossip?

Q7: Are you concerned to direct your wife away from gossip? Are you concerned to protect her from such sin? How so? Ask your wife if she thinks you are concerned about her tongue. What kind of things might you need to do to help your wife flee from malicious gossip?

Q8: Are you the kind of man that is passionate to not lose your own self-control in the use of alcohol? Do you long for your wife to always have self-control, especially in her use of alcohol? As a single man, is this the kind of woman that you find attractive? Has your oversight of the use of alcohol in your marriage, home, life been helpful for your wife so that she would have no trouble meeting this qualification as she gets older in Christ?

Q9: Are you concerned to direct your wife away from the numbing effect on self-control that too much alcohol can produce? Are you protecting your wife from such sin? How so? Ask your wife if she thinks you are concerned about her use of alcohol. What kind of things might you need to do to help your wife flee from the lack of self-control that too much wine produces?

Q10: Are you the kind of man that wants to live a life that brings good or benefit to others? Do you long for your wife to live the same kind of life so that as she grows older, younger women would find her words of experience to be of benefit and good?

Q11: Are you concerned for your wife to be able to impart what is good to younger women? Has your oversight of her life and ministry positioned her to be able to have an avenue of input into other women? Ask your wife if she thinks you are concerned for her to have an avenue of input into the younger women.

Q12: Has your wife heard you express gratefulness to God for her and her love? Have you identified the acts of love your wife demonstrates toward you? Does she know that you feel loved by her through those acts of love? Ask your wife if she feels like you expect her acts of love or appreciate her acts of love toward you.

Q13: Has your wife heard you express gratefulness to God for her love for your children? Have you sat down with her to list for her the many ways you see her sacrifice in love for both you and the children? Does your wife need your encouragement to keep sacrificing in love for the children? Ask your wife if she feels weary in her acts of love for the kids. What do you need to do?

Q14: Are you looking for a wife who is pure in thought and deed? Do you long for your wife to be pure? Do you know impurities tempt your wife? Do you know what form those impurities come at your wife (internet, social networking, TV, movies, etc.)?

Q15: In what ways have you seen purity in your wife in the home? Do you need to study your wife in this area so that you can offer her encouragement or so you can better protect her?

Q16: Are you looking for a wife who is interested in centering her life on the work that her home will require when she is married and has kids? Do you long for your wife to be such a woman?

Q17: Is it your concern to direct your wife to the work that the home requires of her? Do you know what work it is that she does or should do each day, week? Ask your wife about the work that she does each day and week so you understand what is required of her (especially do this before you ask her to step away from the home to work outside – that way you know what the cost will be for her).

Q18: When was the last time you thanked your wife for the work she does in the home? Do you need to become more consistent in thanking her (and God most of all!) for all she does? What's your plan to do that?

Q19: Could your wife benefit from an older woman helping her think through the work that a household requires? Begin to pray about this.

Q20: Are you looking for a kind woman to be your wife and mother of your children? Do you long for your wife to be a kind woman? Are you directing her toward kindness each day?

Q21: Does your wife need your help because she's feeling overwhelmed by the home and kindness is becoming increasingly difficult to extend to others in the home? What do you need to be and do for your wife to protect her from that?

Q22: Are you looking for a woman to be your wife who has embraced the submission God has for her in the gospel? Do you long for your wife to know and even enjoy her submission to you? Are you sacrificing yourself in love for her in such a way that endears her toward submission to you? Ask your wife what she thinks you might be able to do to make her submission to you easier.

Q23: Based on what you've seen of God's design for your wife, what do you think about her being involved with another woman in the church for the sake of accomplishing what Titus 2:3-5 says? What do you think is God's design for your wife right now – to come alongside a younger woman in the church or be "mentored" by an older woman in the church? What would be a gracious, Christ-honoring way of approaching this subject with your wife?
