Psalm 19:10 says that God's words are more desirable than fine gold and sweeter than honey. Ask God to use this lesson to increase your desire for Him and His Word.
LOOKING BACK1. Why is it important to agree with God about His nature and your nature before reading His word?
2. What happens in your heart when you remind yourself of the sanctifying effect God's word has on you?
3. How does knowing that a passage has a single meaning help you when you read your Bible? How does it challenge you?
4. What is the benefit of remembering the basic rules of grammar when you read your Bible?

5. What are some implications of trusting in the sufficiency of Scripture? What are some good principles to keep in mind when we think about extra-biblical books and resources?
6 . What are some of the benefits of observing your passage carefully before trying to decide what it means?
7. Some say that portions of the Old Testament aren't relevant to our lives today. How does this lesson address that?
LOOKING DAY BY DAY How well did you prepare your heart for your time reading God's word this week? How has seeking after God's glory in your Bible reading impacted your time in His Word this week?
LOOKING AHEAD In preparation for Saturday, April 8, (1 Thessalonians 5:14), review what it means to be unruly, fainthearted, or weak. What is different about those? What is the same?
