"Older women likewise are to be reverent in their behavior, not malicious gossips nor enslaved to much wine, teaching what is good, so that they may encourage the young women to love their husbands, to love their children, to be sensible, pure, workers at home, kind, being subject to their own husbands, so that the word of God will not be dishonored."

Titus 2:3-5

Q1: Have you found yourself playing leapfrog over your household relationships? If so, why do you think you have?

Q2: As you've evaluated your spiritual influence in your home, what do you see as the fruit or consequences of that influence?

Q3: Ask someone in your home (husband, child, roommate, parent, sibling, or frequent guest) what they think of your overall influence on the spiritual climate in your home lately.

Q4: Ask someone in your home (husband, child, roommate, parent, sibling, or frequent guest) to offer suggestions for how you can improve on your spiritual influence in the home for good. What did they offer that you didn't see coming?

Q5: What have you discovered about how you need to change? Do you have an understanding of what's at the root of it? If so, what?

Q6: What are the implications of the gospel for what you've heard and seen about your influence in your home? How does it give you hope? How does it spur you on?
